

Exams Tips for A/L Exam

How Should You Prepare a Month before the Exam?

If you're a school student, your exams co-ordinator should provide you with a statement of entry.

Your statement of entry will tell you exactly when your exams are being held, so that you can make the necessary travel arrangements. You must remember to bring this form with you on the exam day.

In the meantime, carry on with your own revision timetable - but remember to add breaks, so you won't get too tired.
